WITH TITLES ABOUT THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY FOR SELF-DEFENSE:

A Panther is a Black Cat
Reginald Major

Reginald Major provides a vivid eyewitness account of the conditions leading to the formation of the Black Panther Party: unemployment, poor housing, police brutality, and a Black community held in bondage by white business leaders and politicians. He also knew the young Black men and women of the Panthers who, armed with guns, challenged those conditions. Major captured events as the Panther challenge set the example for Black resistance across the country.

Blood in My Eye
GEORGE L. JACKSON

Blood In My Eye captures the spirit of George Jackson's legendary resistance to unbridled oppression and racism. His unique and incisively critical perspective becomes the unifying thread that ties together this collection of letters and essays in which he presents his analysis of armed struggle, class war, fascism, communism, and a wide array of other topics.

ISBN 0-933121-23-7. 1971*, 1990. 195 pp. Paper. $14.95.

Seize the Time
BOBBY SEALE

Seize the Time is Bobby Seale's riveting first-person account of the evolution of The Black Panther Party for Self-Defense as a national organization. Seale, while a political prisoner in 1969-1970, recounted the concepts and details of the inner workings of one of the most revolutionary grass-roots organizations in America. In the new Introduction, Seale describes Seize continuing "to have universal appeal as an account of an oppressed people's struggle for human liberation."

ISBN 0-933121-30-X. 1970*, 1991. 429 pp. Paper. $18.95.
