PANTHERS IN MEXICO

BY LONDON WILLIAMS

In keeping with its policy of attack, intimidation and suppression of the growing black liberation struggle, the racist U.S. government was on the warpath last week. A cross-country march by the Panthers in the major cities of Mexico was planned, but after it was announced, a number of panthers were arrested and the trip was canceled. The plans for the trip were developed with the help of the National Organization for Women, the League of Women Voters, and other progressive groups in the United States. The trip was scheduled to begin in Mexico City on March 10 and to end in New York on March 26. The Panthers were planning to use the trip to raise awareness about the plight of African Americans in the U.S. and to build support for the Black Panther Party.

BOLIVIAN GOVT. QUESTIONED

IN LEADERSHIP

By MARK JONES

The Bolivian government has come under increasing scrutiny in recent weeks over its handling of the country's economic crisis. The government has been criticized for its mismanagement of the economy, which has led to a sharp increase in inflation and a decline in the value of the currency. The opposition has called for the resignation of President Evo Morales, who has been in office since 2006. The opposition has also called for the resignation of the government's economic minister, who has been accused of corruption.

Bolivia has a long history of political instability, and the government has faced numerous challenges over the years. The country is also facing a number of other issues, including a severe drought and a lack of investment in infrastructure.

The opposition has also been criticized for its attacks on the media and its use of violence to suppress dissent. In recent weeks, there have been reports of violent attacks on journalists and human rights defenders.

The Bolivian government has denied the opposition's claims and has accused it of spreading false information.

In the wake of the recent events, the international community has called for a peaceful resolution to the crisis. The United Nations has also called for an end to violence and a return to democracy.

Hang-ups...not us!

The Black Panther Party doesn't have time for this nonsense. Our agenda is clear. We are fighting for the rights of African Americans in the United States. We are fighting for a society where black people are treated with respect and dignity, and where their voices are heard. We are fighting for a world where black people are free.
