Panther Lawyer Charges Government Harassment

Charles Gary, lawyer for the imprisoned Black Panther Party charged at a press conference Tuesday in San Francisco, was being "a double-propped attack of intimidation and harassment!" from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) as well as judges trying to "muzzle" his efforts to defend the Black Panthers by sealing messages for them which he disavowed.

Gary attended the IRS probe of the tax files of Gary, Draves, McManus and Bratty to "see what the IRS is really after in terms of harassment and intimidation of movement lawyers to get rid of lawyers who are defending Panthers!"

"This is not a routine audit," he said. "This is in the face of a letter from the Internal Revenue Service stating that the IRS would not be trying to remove anything about the Panther paper, that the IRS has been "handing the law to law enforcement."

Gary charged that the federal grand jury here which has been调查ing Black Panther Party and sent a reporter in to "say nothing about the Panther paper, that the IRS has been "handing the law to law enforcement."

"This is part of a systematic harassment," he told the attorney general, and his stooge to find out about Panther financing."

Gary told the press that the IRS audit of his firm's books was not for tax purposes but for "finding out if we are a political organization" and that "the Grand Jury has now been issued." He also told the press that the IRS is "at black and brown and other movement lawyers."

Gary has also said that he is going to a trial case for his clients, Bobby Seale, chairman of the Black Panther Party, and Huey Newton, defense minister of the party, were not "swept away without a conviction or surrender of any kind to the court system."
COMMUNITY ACCESS TO AUDIO MEDIA

By Dietri Abglen

"Broadcasting is under no obligation to grant time to any specific group. There is no law which compels a station to broadcast, and no station, even one owned by a newspaper or other news organization, has any legal obligation to broadcast, and no station, even one owned by a newspaper, has any legal obligation to broadcast. The only thing that can happen is that a station may decide not to broadcast, and that is the end of the matter."

"From 'What Are You Doing?' a pamphlet published by the National Association of Broadcasters.

The text of the above statement is not clear, but the three statements taken together convey a false impression which broadcasters perpetuate to their own advantage and to the disadvantage of the public.

It is true that broadcasting is under no obligation to grant time to any specific group. There is no law which compels a station to broadcast. However, it has been held by the Federal Communications Commission that this doesn't mean that broadcasters can refuse to broadcast on any topic they want. The FCC has established the "Public Interest, convenience, or necessity" standard for determining whether broadcasting time should be granted.

The requirement of public service, however, is a basic feature of broadcasting, and should be understood by anyone seeking to utilize broadcasting as a means of communication. In regard to serving public interest, the area of congressional issues, the FCC has established the "Public Interest, convenience, or necessity" standard for determining whether broadcasting time should be granted.

This document presents a broadcast from the station to the public, in the form of a statement. It is a call to action, a call to support the station's desire to be heard.

The point of view of your group has been ignored by a station, or worse, that your group has been attacked by a station. This is not only a breach of the public interest, but also a breach of the public trust. The station is required to serve the public's interest, not just its own.

If you feel that the point of view of your group has been ignored, please do not hesitate to contact the station's management. They need to hear from you in order to serve the public interest.

THE CHANGING IMAGE OF BLACK COPS
By Bernard E. Cannett

The Black policeman's attitude has changed remarkably in the last few years. He is no longer the Black neighborhood cop who was often seen in his white uniform, but rather a member of the community. The Black policeman is now seen walking with his Black neighbors, talking to them, and being a part of the community.

The Black policeman is not just a symbol of the law, but a symbol of the community. He is a part of the community, and he is respected for that.

The Black policeman is a symbol of the struggle for justice and equality. He is a symbol of the fight against racism and discrimination.

The Black policeman is a symbol of hope. He is a symbol of the possibility of change and progress.

The Black policeman is a symbol of the community. He is a symbol of the community's desire for justice and equality.

LETTER TO MITCHELL

To Attorney General John Mitchell

In Los Angeles recently we saw one of those great jobs that are advertised all the time. We saw a cop standing in the street, the sun shining brightly, and a little girl running towards him. The cop looked at the girl and smiled. The little girl ran up to him and gave him a big hug. The cop looked at her and said, "Hi there, little girl! How are you doing today?"

The little girl smiled back and said, "Hi, Mr. Cop! I'm doing great! I just wanted to give you a hug and thank you for being such a nice cop." The cop smiled back and said, "Thank you, little girl. You're doing a great job of being polite today. Keep up the good work!"

The little girl ran away, laughing and smiling. The cop watched her go, and then he turned back to the street. He saw the other cops standing around, and he smiled. Then he walked away, knowing that he had done his job well.

The Black policeman is a symbol of the community. He is a symbol of the community's desire for justice and equality.

The Black policeman is a symbol of hope. He is a symbol of the possibility of change and progress.

The Black policeman is a symbol of the community. He is a symbol of the community's desire for justice and equality.

SOLLED LETTER

Dear Editor:

There was a letter in the San Francisco Chronicle that I read recently. The letter was written by a resident of San Francisco to the editors of the newspaper. The resident was expressing his concern about the lack of public transportation in the city.

"There should be better transportation in the city," the letter said. "The buses are always crowded, and the trains are never on time. The city needs to do something about this.""

MAGEE EXPOSES CONSPIRACY

MAGEE COUNTY superior court — Pre-trial proceedings were held yesterday (June 3) following Mitchell Magee’s dema-nation of all court officials dom-ing his candidacy. For this reason, Magee claims he will not run in the primary election in July. Magee is a candidate for Superior Judge.

Magee also claimed that he was prevented from filing his candidacy and had to confer with his attorney to determine his eligibility to file. Magee alleged that his opponent, Judge Richard H. Johnson, refused to accept Magee’s petition.

Johnson, in response, said that Magee had not filed his petition properly. Magee, however, claimed that Johnson had threatened to have Magee’s petition rejected.

At yesterday’s hearing, Magee stated that he would welcome any challenge to his eligibility to run for Superior Judge.

Johnson, in turn, charged Magee with attempting to conceal his candidacy from the public.

A Call For Concrete Action, Plan And Strategy

By Shashi Dalal

LOS ANGELES—If the Black Leadership Conference held at Antelope last year was an attempt to gain a firmer foothold as to the direction Black Liberation should take, the conference this year showed signs, however miniscule, of increasing irritation with the climate and impatience to look for action based on plans, strategies and directions Blacks, at least in California, should take.

The change from the moderate line last year to this year's focus on action can easily be attributed to Ron Dellums, the dapper and fiery congressman from Berkeley. Dr. Carl N. Crutcher, publisher of the Sun Reporter and chairman of the conference, and J.A. Henry, the "night owl" U.C. Berkeley law professor, Dellums' report from Washington was, to put it simply, a speech or exhortation on the role the system based on the capitalist economy. He reminded the Blacks that it is time to go beyond party politics and stop being conservative. "Somebody has to blow the lid off the system," he said, "so that we can start changing it." Dellums told the audience.

He pointed out that the Blacks are not interested in the plurality of life the majority of the time. Blacks have the humanity, love and ability to relate to people, which makes us a different type of people. "We are intelligent people, not just American, but just Black," and so we have to become involved in the problems of the world—like the Vietnam War; the apartheid regime in South Africa; the plight of Blacks in America; the distribution of wealth in this country—to end militancy, racism, and all the ills which afflict this society and which have made Blacks so un...

A Report From Washington

By Rep. Ron Dellums

Dear to a dream in my family, I will try to be as short as possible in my speech. The United States Congress, composed of mediocre prima donnas, operates on a paralyzing dread of public opinion; not being a damming thing about solving the problems that exist. Most of the Congressmen drew something like $30,000 a year. I call that dummy welfare checks.

At this very moment, the United States Congress, in the weakest branch of government while the executive branch is growing stronger everyday. The tragedy of the nation is that 90 per cent of the Congressmen have no principles except to think about their own survival and to return to Congress every two years perpetuating their own egos, their own personal power. I came to Washington as something of a "radical idealist." But I carried no firearms and no weapons and so not madder under my shirt. What I am about to change the system in terms of relating to the people and their daily lives. I am 28 now, and I do not know a damn thing about being re-elected or re-elected or not.

When once you do not have an either-or approach to every weekend. I won't tell you which I am to assume some position. Your first responsibility is to your judgment and to your beliefs. There is one thing I am totally wrong.

Black Liberation Struggle—America And Africa

By Don Wheelock

One of the most important aspects of the Black Liberation Movement in the United States and one about which the least is known is the real and realistic situation that prevails in the 13 countries of Africa—particularly South Africa and West Africa and our connection to it. Because of the critical nature of the Black Movement in this country, deepened and accentuated by recent events by the Nixon Administration and I might add—because it is presently subject to open and mass violence being directed against it—completes my understanding of the situation. This is the only real solution to the wrongs that are being committed against the people of Africa.

Africa is one of the great overpopulated continents of the world. The Congo, alone, with a population of more than 50 million, has a greater population than the United States. The Congo has been a melting pot of European, African, and Asian people for centuries. The Congo has been a source of wealth for the European powers and a source of destruction for the African continent.

Sealed Brothers Move To Disqualify Judge

By Pat Gallyon

At a brief, 45-minute pre-trial hearing held Friday, Judge Willy Carpentier, the associate judge of the Superior Court, the case against the three Black brothers was continued until a later date. The defense of the three brothers is being handled by Attorney George Jackson, and the prosecution by Attorney Carpentier. The case was continued due to the absence of the defendants. The trial is scheduled for a later date, but the exact date is unknown.

The defendants, brothers, were indicted for the murder of a white man in San Francisco. The trial is expected to last several months, and the defense team is preparing for a lengthy battle.

The day of execution will see all prison officials appeal the decision. The appeal will be heard by the California Supreme Court. The appeal will focus on the constitutionality of the death penalty and the fairness of the trial.

The defense team is hoping to bring new evidence to the case, including expert testimony and new witnesses. The prosecution is expected to present a strong case, but the defense team is confident that they can win the appeal.

GOP Will Lose Black Vote, Sen. Edward Brooke Warns

Sen. Edward Brooke, a Republican from Massachusetts, warned that the GOP will lose the Black vote in the 1982 presidential election. He said that in order to win the Black vote, the Republican Party must appeal to the Black community.

Brooke said that in order to win the Black vote, the Republican Party must appeal to the Black community.

Brooke also said that the GOP must work to improve the quality of life for Black Americans.

Sen. Brooke noted that President Nixon did not campaign in the Black community in 1968, which he said was a mistake. He said that Nixon's lack of campaign in the Black community was a major factor in his loss.
