The Sky's the Limit

Racism has been called out in the newpaper for the opening stages of the Black Revolution. In the wake of the Poor People's March, the Black power movement has spread. However, white racism alone remains omnipresent in the streets and in the social fabric of society. Although the President's Commission was created to study the problem of racism, the report's recommendations were left unimplemented.

Editorial

White racism has been called out in the newspapers for the opening stages of the Black Revolution. In the wake of the Poor People's March, the Black power movement has spread. However, white racism alone remains omnipresent in the streets and in the social fabric of society. Although the President's Commission was created to study the problem of racism, the report's recommendations were left unimplemented.

The Black Revolution is a struggle for survival, first and foremost. Poor whites and poor black people who are killing black people in the most blatant to the most subtle ways are being shot in the streets and lynched. It is not just white racism but the social structure of the United States that is being fought against. It is not just black people who are fighting for their freedom but the entire world is fighting against the power structure that is oppressing them.

DESTRUCTION OF THE REVOLUTIONARY LEADER

Just as the Vietnamese people fought to free their country from the domination of the United States, so the poor in America are fighting to free themselves from the domination of the United States. The Vietnamese people are fighting against the US Army and the US government. The poor in America are fighting against the power structure that oppresses them.

EXECUTION OF THE POOR PEOPLE

Just as the Vietnamese people fought to free their country from the domination of the United States, so the poor in America are fighting to free themselves from the domination of the United States. The Vietnamese people are fighting against the US Army and the US government. The poor in America are fighting against the power structure that oppresses them.

WHY THE REVOLUTION IS NECESSARY

The economic and political system of the United States is based on the oppression of black people. It is not just white racism but the entire social structure that is being fought against. It is not just black people who are fighting for their freedom but the entire world is fighting against the power structure that is oppressing them.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT

Without a political solution, the poor people of the United States will not be able to achieve their goals. The Black power movement is a revolutionary movement that aims to change the social structure that oppresses black people. It is not just white racism but the entire social structure that is being fought against.

THE POOR PEOPLE HAVE NOTHING

Just as the Vietnamese people fought to free their country from the domination of the United States, so the poor in America are fighting to free themselves from the domination of the United States. The Vietnamese people are fighting against the US Army and the US government. The poor in America are fighting against the power structure that oppresses them.
